

About one on one Pilates & personal training sessions

Joe Pilates once said about his exercise program, "You'll feel better after 10 sessions, look better in 20 sessions and have a completely new body in 30." It's true, as a matter of fact, most people report a different "awareness" in their bodies after just one class. It is commitment to the process which gives you a "completely new body". Pilates is not like other forms of exercise. While learning the essentials, you may not even sweat, but your body and mind will work hard together so that you will feel exhausted. Expect soreness in very distinct places, because Pilates works deeper, smaller muscles, which may have been neglected all your life. Essential level exercises are not necessarily beginner as much as they are essential; they help you lay the foundation with which you will build improved strength and flexibility. Be warned that if simple exercises are feeling easy there is still a "Pilates epiphany" in your near future.

Once you have a strong foundation and your body begins to understand the work, you WILL find your workouts physically strenuous in addition to being mentally taxing. Pilates tends to become more difficult as you progress because you learn to work harder and get the most benefit out of each exercise. You will get out of it what you put into it, so approach class ready to work hard and you WILL achieve your desired results AND leave feeling wonderful and invigorated.

Please note that our trainers have a lot of education and expertise and if it is appropriate to your goals, they may give you exercises outside of the realm of Pilates. If you are working with other health care professionals (chiropractor, physical therapist, physician, surgeon, massage therapist-Vitality's or otherwise) will ask you to authorize sharing appropriate records. This is your choice, we respect your privacy.

In many ways, starting a Pilates program establishes a new relationship to your body and a smarter way to move that balances both your strength and flexibility. Vitality is committed to properly teaching the excellence in movement that is the legacy of Joe Pilates' revolutionary exercise program.

Pilates Basics

✿ Please arrive on time and take your shoes off before your session starts and unwind. Depending on your appointment time, it is likely there will be other students in the studio, please be considerate.

✿ Come dressed comfortably and ready to move. We suggest that you do not wear loose, short, shorts (like running shorts) or bulky hooded sweatshirts or any clothing that restricts your movement.

✿ Please feel free to ask your teacher questions about the exercises; we appreciate feedback and want to give you the best experience possible!

Frequently asked Questions

Where are you located?

We are in downtown St.Paul on 10th Street between Robert and Jackson (for mapping search 145 E 10th St 55101) Right across the highway from Regions hospital and across the street from the Embassy Suites

Where can I park?

If you are coming for a private lesson you may park in across the street in the Produce Exchange parking lot #38. There is ample on the street parking, mostly metered. There is free parking on Jackson by Global Village/Lift Kids. Otherwise, we always have a ready supply of quarters and the meters are enforced 8:00am to 4:30pm weekdays

Will I work out on the equipment? All of our trainers are certified on ALL the specialized Pilates equipment, so if you are coming for a private lesson you may eventually workout on all the equipment. Duets predominantly use the reformer or stability chair. For matwork based classes you will use many of the small props. You can make requests, your goals direct our programming

What do I need to bring?

Nothing, we workout barefooted (or sock-footed if you must) and provide the mats and props needed for class. We also have purified water and glasses but if you like to bring your own water bottle, feel free to do so.

What if I am allergic to cats?

Lillian is our resident cat, we keep the studio clean and she understands what goes on here. She likes to greet and dismiss people but mostly stays out of the way. We can (and do) prohibit her from coming into the space/ near you by confining her to another part of the studio. Just let us know and we are happy to accommodate your allergies.

Thanks for making a commitment to your health through Pilates at Vitality!
